Rosenthal Dandelion glassware/design: Alvaro Uribe

The image of the wind carrying away dandelion pollen was the inspiration behind New York designer Alvaro Uribe's new, elegant and delicate Dandelion drinking glass and gift collection. The linear cut of the body and base ensures that the glasses sparkle from all angles and provides a striking counterpoint to the tactile, balanced shape. Champagne, wine, whisky and longdrink glasses create a distinctive and timeless table arrangement, and come complete with two matching vases, a bowl and an underplate.

For Alvaro Uribe (*1986), design is the romantic symbiosis of form and function, heart and mind. Originally from Colombia, the New York product designer creates subtle designs in his studio that are unaffected by the latest fashions and trends. His work has already been recognised with the Red Dot Design Award, the Good Design Award and the IDEA Award.

From Porcelain Pioneer to International Design Company

Founded in 1879, Rosenthal reflects on its longstanding company history. The story of Rosenthal is the story of a father and son – founder Philipp Rosenthal Senior and the visionary entrepreneur Philip Rosenthal Junior. The former laid the foundation for modern porcelain production, while the latter built Rosenthal into a renowned international brand. His credo: a passion for everyday luxury and a heartfelt commitment to design. For well over a century, established designers, artists, and trendy newcomers have crafted elegant, high-quality tableware collections and exclusive pieces that enhance living spaces. Rosenthal's clientele includes not only households worldwide but also 800 international restaurants and hotels. Rosenthal is already on the path of green transformation and established the "Corporate Sustainability" unit in 2022. The company actively addresses sustainability in environmental and energy management and social responsibility. The Rosenthal portfolio features the Rosenthal, Hutschenreuther, and Thomas brands, along with collaborations such as Rosenthal meets Versace and Swarovski x Rosenthal. Since July 2009, Rosenthal has been part of the Italian Arcturus Group.
