Rosenthal - new Junto colours Opal Green, Aquamarine and Alabaster

Rosenthal Junto/design: TonettiDesign with Mario Padiglione

Rosenthal Junto – porcelain

The new Rosenthal Junto design innovatively and playfully brings together people and their love of good food from all over the world. A subtle fusion of fine porcelain, sumptuous ceramics and warm wood enables all manner of combinations for any cuisine. Our passion for minute details and a natural, handcrafted look using muted colours and organic shapes is unmistakable. The specially developed colour glaze ensures that the characteristic diamond relief appears as an exciting contrast between light and dark, and lends a unique colour gradient to the hand-glazed products.

New colour – opal green

The subtle opal green tone is a new addition to the existing Junto porcelain colour range, which currently comprises ocean blue, pearl grey and white. It emanates calm, clarity and dimension. The fine glaze, which calls to mind the colour of cool precious stones, perfectly showcases the delicate diamond relief and, despite its understated appearance, brings a lot of personality to the table.

Rosenthal Junto – stoneware

To provide an appropriate contrast to the fine porcelain, the Junto brand also features the major pieces of the collection as vibrant, earthy stoneware with a special reactive glaze. The charm of this unusual glaze lies in the unique appearance of each item. The edges in particular show up through a thinner layer of glaze with a semi-gloss, dark sheen, and unmistakable speckled structures appear on the ceramic surface with certain shapes.

New colours – aquamarine and alabaster

Aquamarine is widely regarded as the mother of all precious stones. The name alone calls to mind not only the close connection to the shades of the sea, from pale to dark blue, but also its visual reflections, depths and shallows. The circular flowing blue shades of the new Junto colour reflect water's endless diversity. Interspersed with pastel dots in beige and cream, each plate is unique. Applied to cream-coloured stoneware, Junto aquamarine combines lightness with a pleasant freshness, turning the dining table into a place of well-being and joie de vivre.

Alabaster, another new colour glaze available exclusively for five items in the collection, is a blend of simplicity and timeless beauty. The subtle chalky shade can be combined with all colours in the Junto range.
