Sambonet - 1965 Vintage Saucepans

Sambonet 1965 Vintage Saucepans

The spirit of the 1960s comes to life again with Sambonet's new 1965 Vintage Saucepans collection. It is the latest project that Centro Stile Sambonet has dedicated to those who love style on their stovetops.

Sambonet introduces its brand new line of innovative kitchenware uniting design, quality, technical presentation and a hint of nostalgia. 1965 Vintage stands out for its exclusive double finished surface, its 18/10 stainless steel and thick sandwich bottom, allowing for perfect thermal conductivity. Saucepan interiors are glazed and extremely functional, while exteriors have an attractive vintage effect. The traditional solid brass handle reflects the all-Italian quality and design of Sambonet and the Centro Stile's ability to transform functional elements into stylish details. Produced from detailed philological research of early 20th century saucepans, the designers have created a simple design piece calling on traditions of the past. The double side handles and lid handle are screwed to the body of the pan, emphasizing the collection's beauty.

The Made in Italy collection is composed of nine selections and their covers, ranging from 16 to 24 cm in diameter. It is suitable for all types of cooking, including induction. Easy to clean and dishwasher safe, the collection, like all Sambonet products, complies with food safety measures.

1965 Vintage reinterprets the allure of the kitchenware that has given Italian food recognition worldwide.
