Sambonet - Marco Polo

Sambonet Marco Polo

From Italy to China on the Silk Road, Sambonet draws on Marco Polo's legendary voyage to accompany its tableware with a versatile set of Chinese chopsticks.

Just as architecture changes from West to East, the culture of dining finds new ways to express itself and take on new influences. The illustrations on the sides of the chopsticks represent the characteristic buildings of the cities visited, while the chopstick rest takes on the look of an exotic landscape between rivers and mountains.

With this collection, Sambonet interprets a union of different cultures, customs and culinary preparations expressed through the rules of contemporary place settings. The typical Asian chopsticks and the spoon, the symbol of Western cuisine, are offered together to symbolize the bonds between the two worlds, which grow ever closer together.

The set consists of 2 chopsticks with tips in stainless steel and the body in a black synthetic fibre, completed by an ergonomic chopstick rest. The spoon, also of stainless steel, completes this selection destined for all the tables in the world.

The legacy of the adventurer who blazed a trail to new worlds.
