Thomas - Medaillon

Thomas - “Medaillon”

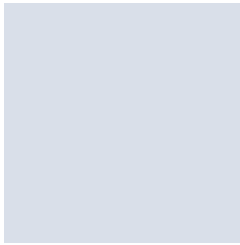

Marked by a radical simplicity, that gives timelessness and timeliness: Nearly 40 years after the first introduction Thomas takes the shape “Medaillon”, 1962 designed by Hans Theo Baumann, back in the collection. Characteristic of Baumann’s design is the clear, geometric shape, which is due to its explicit concept of beauty, supplemented by a rigorous use orientation. The modern revision of some articles (bigger soup, dining and dinner plates) make “Medaillon” to a service with a history that still meets the demands of today’s tableware. The distinctive design language, with its generous knobs contrasts with the intricate, almost delicate implementation and makes “Medaillon” a distinctive product. Baumann’s design appears extremely avant-garde, however, in a pleasantly effortless way.

From Porcelain Pioneer to International Design Company

Founded in 1879, Rosenthal reflects on its longstanding company history. The story of Rosenthal is the story of a father and son – founder Philipp Rosenthal Senior and the visionary entrepreneur Philip Rosenthal Junior. The former laid the foundation for modern porcelain production, while the latter built Rosenthal into a renowned international brand. His credo: a passion for everyday luxury and a heartfelt commitment to design. For well over a century, established designers, artists, and trendy newcomers have crafted elegant, high-quality tableware collections and exclusive pieces that enhance living spaces. Rosenthal’s clientele includes not only households worldwide but also 800 international restaurants and hotels. Rosenthal is already on the path of green transformation and established the “Corporate Sustainability” unit in 2022. The company actively addresses sustainability in environmental and energy management and social responsibility. The Rosenthal portfolio features the Rosenthal, Hutschenreuther, and Thomas brands, along with collaborations such as Rosenthal meets Versace and Swarovski x Rosenthal. Since July 2009, Rosenthal has been part of the Italian Arcturus Group.
