A Feast of Colours! Christmas with Rosenthal Junto

Rosenthal combines the spirit of a modern Christmas with romantic fairytale flair and interprets the festive season in a modern twist of deep red tones and delicate pastel pink, far from the usual colour combinations. In a vivid mix of perfection and effortless cool, a Christmas with Rosenthal Junto is relaxed, modern, but still beautifully festive.

Rosenthal - Junto Rose Quartz and Soft Shell

A Junto stoneware series Rose Quartz is a fascinating and lively interplay of different shades of rosé in ever new facets and shapes. On the table, it unfolds its power as a strong, natural tone, creating a harmony between the warm and cool nuances of the Junto collection. As a melange of soft rosé and cool grey the elegant Soft Shell colour gives the collection a sophisticated modernity and can easily be mixed with the existing shades without losing its individuality.

Rosenthal - Node and colourful vases in mini size

Intertwined shape, flowing lines, soft porcelain - in Node designer Martin Hirth, one of the most acclaimed German newcomers of recent years, transforms porcelain into a voluminous, geometric knot shape and creates a vase that seems more like a sculpture than a utilitarian object. With their avantgarde designs and silky touch the colourful mini vases lie well in the hand and come in strong colours as soloists or ensembles in any interior.

Rosenthal - the vases Flux, Triu and Seven Contour

The vase Flux lives from the flowing combination of two completely different shapes. Abstract at the upper edge and geometric at the lower edge, they never seem to come together and thus creating additional interest. The transparent material underlines the lightness of the object and emphasises the flowing form of the vase body. A flowing Triu design made of borosilicate glass, which combines three U-shaped arms and appears, - just like the Seven Contour vase composed of seven individual glass tubes, - thanks to fine titanisation like a work of art crafted in metal.
