A nature experience in fresh mountain air: The new décor "Grand Air" by Rosenthal

Swiss textile designer Regula Stüdli takes us on a walk through the lush herb garden. The new floral décor "Grand Air" is as light and fresh as a nature experience in fresh mountain air. As if blown by the wind and combined by nature into a multicoloured flower ensemble, spicy herbs and edible blossoms arranged in small bunches, scattered loosely or arranged in circles to form ornaments, float freely over the Brillance form and merge with it to form a sensual whole.

The almost transparent porcelain body underlines the elegance and lightness of the graceful floral décor. Fragrant herbs such as rosemary, thyme and lavender, bright meadow flowers such as nasturtium and marigold combined with the filigree beauty of cosmea, come together with other edible wild flowers such as cornflower, pansies and daisies in the picturesque flowerbed. Slightly poisonous flowers used as medicines glow a delicate pink. Place, dinner and bread plates as well as saucers in soft sage green provide freshness and tranquillity and contrast with the white bone china. Grand Air is a delightful play with nature and a feast for all the senses.

The designer Regula Stüdli is one of the best-known textile designers in Switzerland. After studying at the University of Art and Design in Zurich, she worked for over ten years in the creation department of the renowned Swiss textile company Jakob Schlaepfer. Regula Stüdli has been working independently since July 2012 and creates motifs, symbols and decorations of sparkling vitality for fashion companies and the interior and architecture sectors. For Rosenthal, she has designed the décors Brillance Fleurs Sauvages, Fleurs des Alpes, Maria Pink Rose, Sanssouci Chambre Bleue and Maria Winter Rose, among others. Regula Stüdli currently also teaches textile design at the Lucerne University of Applied Sciences and Arts.

Rosenthal may have one of the longest traditions of Germany's companies, but is also one of the most modern. Just as we did when we were originally founded over 140 years ago, Rosenthal develops products equally for discerning end customers and for exacting professional clients from the restaurant and hotel trade. Our products stand out with exceptional form, function, quality and craftsmanship and represent a cultural asset "made in Germany", never ceasing to combine innovation and creativity. With its award-winning porcelain design, trendy lifestyle collections and modern, elegant classics, the Rosenthal brand raises the bar time and again for aesthetics and individuality.

Established figures from the worlds of architecture, design and art, but also the hottest newcomers and talents design avant-garde dinner table collections, foster a joy of giving and create sophisticated furnishings. The collections are manufactured in the Rosenthal porcelain factory in Selb and the "Thomas am Kulm" porcelain factory in Speichersdorf, which offer some of the porcelain industry's most advanced production facilities anywhere in the world and deliver sustainable manufacturing with careful use of resources thanks to the forward-looking investments that have been made.

New interior collections and accessories enrich the Rosenthal world by adding designer objects that go far beyond the limits of a conventional table setting and round off the huge product variety.
