From Viridian Green to Lime Cream: Rosenthal Embraces the Green Trend

Green and Turquoise: The 2025 Trend Colours for Stylish Table Culture

Whether Viridian Green, Aquatic Awe, or Lime Cream – green and turquoise shades, ranging from bold to delicate, define this year’s design trends. Green is not only calming but also brings freshness and vibrancy to any interior. The spectrum spans from soft pastels to rich, intense greens, showcasing the versatility of this colour. Reminiscent of refreshing spring meadows and the invigorating power of water, green adds an elegant, nature-inspired touch to both our dining tables and homes.

Rosenthal embraces this trend and introduces stylish designs in harmonious green hues, creating inviting table settings that bring a sense of well-being into any space.

Rosenthal Francis Carreau Vert: Regal Elegance in Green

The timeless Francis shape meets the almost regal elegance of the Carreau décor. Previously available in refined beige and royal blue, Rosenthal now expands the collection with the new Vert colourway – embracing the 2025 colour trend that highlights natural greens and aquatic tones across fashion, design, and interiors.

Much like the trendy Aquatic Awe, Vert celebrates nature's wonders, evoking harmony, balance, and grounding. A combination of open and colour-filled chequered patterns, accentuated by fine gold detailing, creates a mesmerising effect reminiscent of looking through a kaleidoscope. Thoughtfully placed white spaces add a sense of lightness, generating an intriguing contrast between light and dark that elegantly enhances the structured lines of the Francis shape.

A highlight of the collection, which includes plates, bowls, cups, and mugs, is the tea pot with its gilded spout – a true statement piece.

Rosenthal Junto Jungle: Welcome to the Urban Jungle

Now more than ever, interior design embraces natural elements and a strong connection to the outdoors, often with a touch of exoticism. Bringing nature indoors in a modern, urban interpretation creates tranquil, green havens, offering an escape from the stresses of daily life. The Junto collection fits seamlessly into this trend with its new soft green glaze, Jungle.

Crafted from stoneware with organic shapes and a handcrafted aesthetic, this collection embodies a natural, contemporary style while catering to the growing demand for ceramic tableware. The distinctive reactive glaze, applied to plates, mugs, and bowls in various sizes, ensures each piece is unique, enhancing the atmosphere of any table setting. The new shade pairs beautifully with existing Junto glazes, especially warm tones such as Bronze or Dune.
