Wedding-Vibes: Unforgettable wedding moments with Rosenthal

Some weddings are opulent and all in white, others are simple and intimate. Unusual locations, themes and not least decorations and table settings give weddings large and small a very personal touch. Whether it's a vintage celebration of love, boho chic or a midsummer night's dream, the possibilities of creating a wedding are as varied as they are individual and unique. Just like the bride and groom's life together, the emotional experience can be as personal as you want it to be.

MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM: Heritage Turandot

Once upon a time there were a bride and a groom... Many couples choose to celebrate their special day in the style of an enchanted midsummer night's dream that makes their childhood dreams come true. The atmosphere is one of pure romance, letting the hearts of lovers and guests beat faster. Whether it's an indoor or outdoor wedding, loving floral arrangements and fine details transform the location into a dreamlike world. Inspired not by a fairy tale, but by Giacomo Puccini's opera, the Turandot pattern from Rosenthal's Heritage collection bears the same name. It tells poetic stories on porcelain and enchants any festive table.

ELEGANCE & ZEITGEIST: Rosenthal Francis Carreau

This wedding combines clean chic and timelessness with modernity and elegant understatement. The couple and their guests love the big city urban chic that leaves no room for rustic cosiness. Rooftop bars, industrial buildings or lofts are perfect settings for this elegant wedding. Modern practicality is taken to a new level with elegant decorations. Candlesticks and cutlery in precious metals meet geometric, straight-lined tables and crockery, adding a touch of cool to the ambience. The perfect stage for Rosenthal's Francis line, which combines modern and timeless design with elegance. Plain and colourful checked areas alternate, and the fine gold outline creates an effect reminiscent of looking through a kaleidoscope.

VINTAGE DELUXE: Maria wedding tableware from Rosenthal

Something blue, something new and, above all, something old is needed for the hippest wedding of the moment. Retro weddings are all the rage.

Whether it's the atmosphere of the location, the dress or the decorations - vintage, and the charm of having been used are very popular. Old things are given a new lease of life, with fabric napkins and heavy silver cutlery meeting antique candlesticks, embroidered tablecloths and porcelain all evoking days gone by. The classic Maria by Rosenthal not only brings an elegant retro look to the wedding table, but also tells one of the most beautiful love stories.

Philipp Rosenthal named the world-famous porcelain service after his beloved wife Maria. Launched in 1916, it quickly became a design icon.

BOHO CHIC: Rosenthal Junto Sets

Couples opting for a boho wedding don't want it to be stuffy, they want it to be unconventional and creative. Natural elements, real candles and artistic floral decorations using wildflowers, branches or pampas grass create a casual yet elegant chic look. Whether it's an indoor or outdoor ceremony, on the beach, in a barn or in a country house, a bohemian wedding is all about romance and getting guests into the festive spirit. The Junto sets let you create a table setting that you can personalise with innovative and playful elements. The three different lifestyle sets offer a variety of possible combinations for the design of the wedding table, as they contain porcelain and stoneware tableware, elegant grey cloth napkins and Sambonet cutlery.

COUNTRYSIDE CHIC: Form 1382 Blaublüten

It doesn't always have to be the barn, but it can be...! Outdoor feeling, closeness to nature and a large portion of romance should not be missing at a country house style wedding. Whether it's a ballroom with a Nordic brick look, a country estate in Provence or an idyllic field with a night sky and fairy lights: Naturalness and rustic flair create a relaxed atmosphere at this wedding. Materials such as linen, wood and glass make a grounded ambience, while delicate floral decorations set up an elegantly festive atmosphere. Pastel colours such as apricot, cream or rosé are as much a part of the country house style as the bride and groom. The iconic 1382 Blaublüten service combines elegant country house chic with romantic flair. Blaublüten is the classic decoration on Hermann Gretsch's 1382 mould: delicate cornflower-blue blossoms entwine on white porcelain.

BEST OF GIFTS: The Mug+

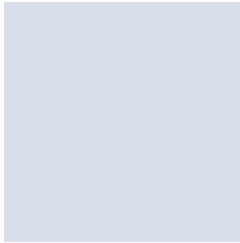

For him & her to start their life together or as a gift for guests: The Mug+ will delight anyone who loves moments of pleasure. The trendy packaging also makes it a great gift idea for weddings. Whether you're enjoying a cup of coffee together or a cup of tea with friends, the smooth, sleek mug sits comfortably in your hand and keeps drinks hot or cold for longer thanks to its double-walled design. Available in the subtle colours of Comfort Blue and Gentle Grey, or the contrasting Delicate Black and Silky White, these cups capture the modern zeitgeist.

From Porcelain Pioneer to International Design Company

Founded in 1879, Rosenthal celebrates 145 years of company history this year. The story of Rosenthal is the story of a father and son – founder Philipp Rosenthal Senior and the visionary entrepreneur Philip Rosenthal Junior. The former laid the foundation for a modern porcelain production at the time, while the latter built Rosenthal into a renowned international brand. His credo: a passion for everyday luxury and a heartfelt commitment to design. For 145 years, established designers, artists, and trendy newcomers have been creating elegant tableware collections as well as exclusive objects. The Rosenthal portfolio includes the brands Rosenthal, Hutschenreuther, and Thomas, along with brand collaborations such as Rosenthal meets Versace and Swarovski x Rosenthal. Since July 2009, the company has been part of the Italian Arcturus Group.
